

THE WEATHER

Fair and warmer tonight; lowest temperature 25 degrees; Wednesday cloudy and unsettled; warmer.

TEMPERATURE AT EACH HOUR

8	9	10	11	12	1	2	3	4	5
22	22	24	25	28	30	32

VOL. VII.—NO. 120

Entered as Second-Class Matter at the Postoffice at Philadelphia, Pa.

Under the Act of March 3, 1879

STATE REGULATION OF HOTELS TO CURB
PRICES, BILL'S AIM

Effort to Cut Costs May Put Hostelries Under Service Commission

TRAVELING MEN ACT TO PREVENT NEW GOUGING

By GEORGE NOX McCANN

Harrisburg, Feb. 1.—Several bills evolutionary in their way, have been prepared for presentation at the present session.

The one promises to regulate the hotels of the state by placing them under the Public Service Commission. The other, which has been prepared by the Traveling Men's Association, proposes regulation of hotels, but does not contemplate placing them under the Public Service Commission.

It is possible that only one of these measures will be presented, but at present it is impossible to say which it will be.

Hotels, from their very nature, are in a public utility and necessity, and in that interpretation they are in a class with public utility concerns. This is the argument used by the author of the bill, which would place the hotels under the service commission.

Even if not now so providing, the act which created the Public Service Commission can, it is claimed, be so amended by the Legislature as to include hotel bills.

So far as known no such regulation exists in any state. The question is of course a legal proposition which may be decided with interest and difficult complications.

Hit at High Prices

The reason given for the enactment of such a measure comes from the charge that hotel rates at present are out of proportion to food prices and costs of operation. They still remain open on a wartime basis, so far as charges to the public are concerned.

When prohibitory became law, laws were passed into soda fountain refreshments as grills or lunch rooms, so increased the price of rooms to offset the loss sustained by inability to sell liquor.

Today a room in a first-class hotel, under the European plan, costs as much as was charged for two rooms in pre-war times.

At many hotels there are additional demands in the way of "cover charges," while others add a premium on the expense of rooms.

There have been rumors in Harrisburg for a week now that a bill was to be introduced making it punishable with heavy fine to fix or demand any sum in any hotel for which no real or actual service is rendered.

Would Control Rates

Hotels in Pennsylvania, it is alleged, by members of the House and Senate, have no disposition to reduce their rates in conformity with the general decline in foodstuffs. Under such a law as is proposed an increase in rates would be impossible without the permission of the Public Service Commission.

The legality of such a measure is, I find in talks with members of the bar, at present.

The permanent member of the Philadelphia delegation views the bill as being aimed at the members of the Public Service Commission, then having houses would also have to be included, for it is in many cases difficult to draw the line between a small hotel and a large boarding house.

Another member is of the opinion that such a measure would be proposed to the legislature to effect a more general character of accommodations for the public.

The reason for the introduction of such a bill is due to discontent over hotel conditions here in Harrisburg.

The Penn-Harris, which is operated as a New York hotel chain, at the beginning of the session notified members of the House and Senate, newspaper correspondents and officials of the Legislature who occupied two rooms. That arrangement was continued until the end of the session.

The permanent member of the Philadelphia delegation views the bill as an attempt to get rid of the remaining members of the session.

The reason for the introduction of such a bill is due to discontent over hotel conditions here in Harrisburg.

There have been a number of staff meetings on the subject, but the management has declined thus far to conclude an agreement on the three day advance agreement.

Hotels are turning hundreds away into cold, dark alleys where they are unsheltered and the legislature would get credit for their new bill.

Manager Washington of the Penn-Harris informed me that the three day advance agreement for members of the House did not remain for three days, but the hotel management had an instant agreement to rent the room for the remainder of the session.

The manager explains that it is the case that three days' arrangement is self protection.

There have been a number of staff meetings on the subject, but the management has declined thus far to conclude an agreement on the three day advance agreement.

Hotels are turning hundreds away into cold, dark alleys where they are unsheltered and the legislature would get credit for their new bill.

Manager Washington of the Penn-Harris informed me that the three day advance agreement for members of the

P. R. R. Man Wins Lim'rick Prize

LIMERICK NO. 38

T. W. FERNON,
3310 N. Smedley St.

There's Another Limpin' Lim'rick Printed Today—
See Page 2

TRAFFIC DELAYED FOUR WOMEN QUIT BY P. R. R. WRECK G. O. P. COMMITTEE

Twelve Loaded Freight Cars Are Piled Up on Tracks at Plainsboro, N. J., but Deny Friction

ALL TRAINS HOURS LATE

Mesdames Thomson, Warden, Krusen and Hancock Leave, but Deny Friction

ILLNESS IS REASON OF ONE

Four of the most influential members of the Republican women's committee have resigned, including Mrs. Walter S. Thomson, chairman of the county organization, who demonstrated her organizing ability in Linhay, Leon drives and later in the field of practical politics.

The others who have withdrawn are Mrs. William Gray Warden, county vice chairman; Mrs. Wilmer Krusen, chairman of the committee of the Third Senatorial district, and Mrs. Walter S. Hancock, chairman of the committee of the Fourth Senatorial district.

Reports that friction within the committee caused the resignations were denied.

Members of the committee said Mrs. Thomson's resignation had been generally known for several months. She accepted the appointment only temporarily, agreeing to serve during the campaign, but asking that she be relieved as soon as another could be found for the place. It is understood that Mrs. Warden, state chairman, has another capable woman in view, but is not ready to announce the appointment at this time.

Mrs. Thomson stated today she was going abroad.

"I have been ill," she explained, "and have not been able to go with the work. I feel that we should be interested who can keep in constant touch with the work."

The retiring chairman, it is asked, if she would take up political work next year when candidates for Governor and for other state offices are to be selected.

"I probably will help the chairman in every way I can," she replied.

Mrs. Warden, the retiring vice chairman, is in Plainfield as is Mrs. Barbara H. Warburton, state chairman of the Republican women's committee.

Mrs. Krusen, a former director of Hospital and Clinics, said she felt fair signs in this work was done.

The resignations, due at Plainsboro, were sent to the New York office of the Pennsylvania Railroad, Philadelphia, traffic was ordered diverted. Trains were sent westward via Perth Amboy, South Amboy, Bordentown, Morris Junction, Delaware river bridge, to Frankford Junction.

One part of this route is over a one-mile stretch, it was necessary to reduce running schedules and operate under cautionary signals, thereby causing the delay.

The reason for the introduction of such a bill is due to discontent over hotel conditions here in Harrisburg.

The reason for the introduction of such a bill is due to discontent over hotel conditions here in Harrisburg.

There have been a number of staff meetings on the subject, but the management has declined thus far to conclude an agreement on the three day advance agreement.

Hotels are turning hundreds away into cold, dark alleys where they are unsheltered and the legislature would get credit for their new bill.

Manager Washington of the Penn-Harris informed me that the three day advance agreement for members of the House did not remain for three days, but the hotel management had an instant agreement to rent the room for the remainder of the session.

Manager Washington of the Penn-Harris informed me that the three day advance agreement for members of the House did not remain for three days, but the hotel management had an instant agreement to rent the room for the remainder of the session.

Manager Washington of the Penn-Harris informed me that the three day advance agreement for members of the House did not remain for three days, but the hotel management had an instant agreement to rent the room for the remainder of the session.

Manager Washington of the Penn-Harris informed me that the three day advance agreement for members of the

BRIBE SOLICITED
TO EFFECT ESCAPE,
BERGDOLL SAYS

Fugitive Draft Dodger, Now in Germany, Declares Gibbons

Wanted $100,000

DECLARES ARMY GUARDS
TOOK ORDERS FROM HIM

Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, Philadelphia draft dodger who has found asylum in Eberbach, Baden, Germany, asserts that when he escaped last May, during a visit to his home here, on the way to look for his "not of gold" in the mountains of West Virginia, the sergeants in charge of him really were under his orders.

Bergdoll, sitting with "Hod" Steeher, his friend and chauffeur, in a little hotel in Eberbach, kept by relatives, told his story to Ralph Nicholson, special correspondent of the Evening PUBLIC LEDGER. The draft dodger and fugitive asserted that the sergeants were innocent, as they were acting under written orders.

He claims he was turned into a sergeant by Charles Gibbons, since dead.

The latter had turned his authority over to Steeher, telling him he was

to do anything he wished.

Sundays, with a lot of shoulder-patches, Angeleno took the story of the incident which caused Mrs. Frederick to be burned to death. He stood in the narrow hallway of the burning house, holding the door between the flames and the fire.

MISS ADA FREDERICK

Who died from burns after her

husband made a heroic attempt to save her life

RUNAWAY GIRL CAUGHT WITH YOUTH IN STATION

Says Companion Planned Robbery to Get to Florida

A youthful couple, sitting disconsolately in the waiting room at Broad Street Station last night, were arrested and taken to City Hall, the girl charged with being a runaway and the youth with carrying an pistol.

Levi C. Charles Gibbons, since dead.

The latter had turned his authority over to Steeher, telling him he was

to do anything he wished.

Bergdoll, sitting with "Hod" Steeher, his friend and chauffeur, in a little hotel in Eberbach, kept by relatives, told his story to Ralph Nicholson, special correspondent of the Evening PUBLIC LEDGER. The draft dodger and fugitive asserted that the sergeants were innocent, as they were acting under written orders.

He claims he was turned into a sergeant by Charles Gibbons, since dead.

The latter had turned his authority over to Steeher, telling him he was

to do anything he wished.

Sundays, with a lot of shoulder-patches, Angeleno took the story of the incident which caused Mrs. Frederick to be burned to death. He stood in the narrow hallway of the burning house, holding the door between the flames and the fire.

MISS ADA FREDERICK

Who died from burns after her

husband made a heroic attempt to save her life

RUNAWAY GIRL CAUGHT WITH YOUTH IN STATION

Says Companion Planned Robbery to Get to Florida

A youthful couple, sitting disconsolately in the waiting room at Broad Street Station last night, were arrested and taken to City Hall, the girl charged with being a runaway and the youth with carrying an pistol.

Levi C. Charles Gibbons, since dead.

The latter had turned his authority over to Steeher, telling him he was

to do anything he wished.

Bergdoll, sitting with "Hod" Steeher, his friend and chauffeur, in a little hotel in Eberbach, kept by relatives, told his story to Ralph Nicholson, special correspondent of the Evening PUBLIC LEDGER. The draft dodger and fugitive asserted that the sergeants were innocent, as they were acting under written orders.

He claims he was turned into a sergeant by Charles Gibbons, since dead.

The latter had turned his authority over to Steeher, telling him he was

to do anything he wished.

Sundays, with a lot of shoulder-patches, Angeleno took the story of the incident which caused Mrs. Frederick to be burned to death. He stood in the narrow hallway of the burning house, holding the door between the flames and the fire.

MISS ADA FREDERICK

Who died from burns after her

husband made a heroic attempt to save her life

RUNAWAY GIRL CAUGHT WITH YOUTH IN STATION

Says Companion Planned Robbery to Get to Florida

A youthful couple, sitting disconsolately in the waiting room at Broad Street Station last night, were arrested and taken to City Hall, the girl charged with being a runaway and the youth with carrying an pistol.

Levi C. Charles Gibbons, since dead.

The latter had turned his authority over to Steeher, telling him he was

to do anything he wished.

Bergdoll, sitting with "Hod" Steeher, his friend and chauffeur, in a little hotel in Eberbach, kept by relatives, told his story to Ralph Nicholson, special correspondent of the Evening PUBLIC LEDGER. The draft dodger and fugitive asserted that the sergeants were innocent, as they were acting under written orders.

He claims he was turned into a sergeant by Charles Gibbons, since dead.

The latter had turned his authority over to Steeher, telling him he was

to do anything he wished.

Sundays, with a lot of shoulder-patches, Angeleno took the story of the incident which caused Mrs. Frederick to be burned to death. He stood in the narrow hallway of the burning house, holding the door between the flames and the fire.

MISS ADA FREDERICK

Who died from burns after her

husband made a heroic attempt to save her life

RUNAWAY GIRL CAUGHT WITH YOUTH IN STATION